The Story of Teeling Whiskey Co.

Jack Teeling, founder of the Teeling Whiskey Co., comes from a family long associated with Irish whiskey. From Walter Teeling in 1782 who started a distillery on Marrowbone Lane in Dublin to John Teeling who founded Cooley Distillery in 1987, the first new Irish whiskey distillery to be established in Ireland in over 100 years.

Teeling's entrepreneurial spirit has been maintained by Jack who is reviving the Independent Spirit of Ireland through the Teeling Whiskey Co.

The Teeling Whiskey Company was established on some core values that are distinctively Irish and the essence of what they want in every bottle:

TEELING WHISKEY

Teeling Whiskey is a small batch blend of Malt and Grain whiskey with a higher than normal composition of first fill bourbon barrels and higher than usual ratio of malt to grain. The blend is then given further maturation in ex-Rum barrels to impart an extra sweet and smooth flavour while keeping the unique taste of Irish Whiskey

NOSE : Cut grass and orange blossom. Allspice, hints of vanilla, apple pie and blackberries.

Palate Spiced, rich palate with rose petal jelly and lemon curd. Creamy vanilla, hints of dried herbs and cinnamon.

FINISH: Floral, herbal finish. Caramel on the tail
